What any driver who has had a few too many run-ins with traffic police may have to face at some point is SR-22 insurance. According to a recently published InsuranceAgents.com article, 'Getting Acquainted With SR-22 Insurance,' SR-22 insurance is essential if you want to improve your driving record.

The purpose of SR-22 insurance is to prove your financial responsibility and allows you to get your driving record back on the right track.

"If you are cited by law enforcement for driving without insurance then you will be required to carry proof of SR-22 insurance for roughly three years just as if you were on probation," the article states.

SR-22 insurance can be obtained through most insurance providers. To find out your state's requirements, fees, and why or when you will need an SR-22 insurance policy, contact your auto insurance agent without delay.

You will need an SR-22 insurance policy if you have:

- A DWI, DUI, or any other serious moving violation
- A suspended or revoked license
- Been involved in an at-fault accident without insurance
- Made repeated traffic violations

SR-22 insurance can be a pain to file, and it can also be expensive. Visit InsuranceAgents.com to learn more about SR-22, and to request auto insurance quotes from up to five local agents.
