[Malibu, CA] - Affluent addiction treatment patients often find themselves perplexed in their search for a luxury addiction treatment facility. The problem, unfortunately, is that it's difficult for those treatment patients to get reliable information from and about the most exclusive luxury rehabs around the country.

LuxuryDrugRehab.com is determined to change that dynamic.

LuxuryDrugRehab.com is a shining light in the rehab referral market. The company provides personal counseling services for affluent addiction treatment patients, with the goal of helping those addiction treatment patients find the rehab facilities that are exactly right for them. To do that, LuxuryDrugRehab.com's expert advisers closely scrutinize the best luxury addiction treatment facilities around the country, then use their accumulated knowledge to deliver informed and insightful recommendations.

In the search for the right addiction treatment facility, there's simply no substitute for that sort of expertise.

It's important that a rehab patient be fully informed about an addiction treatment facility before enrolling in it. It would seem natural, then, that rehab centers would want to communicate openly and honestly with their prospective clients. If successful rehab develops from a foundation of truth, it's hard to imagine that any other course of action could lead to long-term recovery.

But those principles aren't always put into practice.

LuxuryDrugRehab.com's experts advisers have closely compared the information contained in advertising brochures published by luxury addiction treatment centers with the actual truth about those centers' services. What they've found, unfortunately, is that some facilities intentionally mislead their prospective clients. As should go without saying, those facilities can't be trusted to produce meaningful or lasting healing.

Given the stakes in the fight against addiction, those sorts of failures can lead to disaster.

It's no secret that addiction is devastating disease. That's why LuxuryDrugRehab.com's counselors do everything in their power to ensure that their clients receive accurate information and expert advice on the road to an addiction treatment facility. For those clients and their families, no service could ever possibly be more important.

"I am really glad I called," said one client in a testimonial published on LuxuryDrugRehab.com's Web site. "Privacy was a big concern for me. Your counselor was very knowledgeable about all the top-tier rehabs and helped me narrow it down to the ones where I could be sure my privacy would be respected."
