[Malibu, CA] - Affluent addiction recovery patients often find themselves perplexed in their search for a luxury addiction recovery center. The problem, unfortunately, is that it's difficult for those treatment patients to get reliable information from and about the most exclusive luxury addiction treatment centers around the country.

LuxuryDrugRehab.com is determined to change that dynamic.

LuxuryDrugRehab.com is a shining light in the addiction recovery referral market. The company provides personal counseling services for affluent addiction recovery patients, with the goal of helping those addiction recovery patients find the rehab facilities that are exactly right for them. To do that, LuxuryDrugRehab.com's expert advisers closely scrutinize the best private addiction treatment programs around the country, then use their accumulated knowledge to deliver informed and insightful recommendations.

In the search for the right addiction recovery center, there's simply no substitute for that sort of expertise.

It's important that an addiction recovery patient be fully informed about an addiction recovery center before enrolling in it. It would seem natural, then, that luxury addiction recovery facilities would want to communicate openly and honestly with their prospective clients. If successful addiction recovery develops from a foundation of truth, it's hard to imagine that any other course of action could lead to long-term recovery.

But those principles aren't always put into practice.

LuxuryDrugRehab.com's experts advisers have closely compared the information contained in advertising brochures published by luxury addiction treatment centers with the actual truth about those centers' services. What they've found, unfortunately, is that some facilities intentionally mislead their prospective clients. As should go without saying, those facilities can't be trusted to produce meaningful or lasting healing.

Given the stakes in the fight against addiction, those sorts of failures can lead to disaster.

It's no secret that addiction is devastating disease. That's why LuxuryDrugRehab.com's counselors do everything in their power to ensure that their clients receive accurate information and expert advice on the road to an addiction treatment center. For those clients and their families, no service could ever possibly be more important.

"I am really glad I called," said one client in a testimonial published on LuxuryDrugRehab.com's Web site. "Privacy was a big concern for me. Your counselor was very knowledgeable about all the top-tier addiction recovery centers and helped me narrow it down to the ones where I could be sure my privacy would be respected."
