Mystic Management Systems' ensur Document Control Software has been selected to assist in the quality process management within Forever Nutraceuticals LLC, a new branch of Forever Living.

Norwich, CT - When Forever Living Products decided to branch out into the Nutraceutical world, they realized that the most important thing they could get in line right away were their Quality processes. After encountering the ensur document control software, they knew they had their system. The document control system will help them streamline the creation and approval of all of the new company Procedures and Work Instructions that they are in the process of creating. In addition to the invaluable time savings they will encounter, they are most excited about the security of the system. The fact that they can control who can access and modify documents is a quality department's dream come true. The quality control that they have within their manufacturing department will now extend to their documentation practices as well.

About Forever Living Products

Founded in 1978 on little more than dreams and hard work, Forever Living is now a multi-billion dollar company, based in Scottsdale, Arizona, that manufactures and sells dozens of wellness and beauty products. With over nine and a half million distributors in over 145 countries, Forever Living offers the once in a lifetime opportunity of living a healthier, wealthier life.

In addition to the wellness and beauty industry, Forever Living contributes to the Lodging industry with their Forever Resorts and also has strong ties to charitable organizations globally that share their passion for improving the human experience through their Forever Giving foundation.
