

Job Loss is On The Rise – There is Real Employment Online – Learn More At The Medical Transcription At Home Website

Released on: May 03, 2010, 12:04 pm

Author: Michele Miller

Industry: Education

Beware of Scam Businesses on the Internet – Get a Real Job Online as a Medical Transcriptionist

Michele Miller proudly announces the launch of her medical transcription training website at <http://www.medical-transcription-at-home.net> which offers a real employment opportunity for people that want to work at home or in their community. She offers an affordable online medical transcription training course that allows the student to train for a real career.

“People are losing their jobs across this country” said Michele. “People need to replace these jobs quickly with a viable alternative. A medical transcriptionist can find employment at home or in the community at a medical center. This is a chance for anyone to become employed again quickly and earn a decent wage.”

Michele is concerned about people becoming desperate and investigating work at home opportunities, which are merely scams.

“It is necessary to use due diligence when researching business opportunities on the Internet. People need to select a new career opportunity based on how much income they can really make, and whether it is a bonafide opportunity for employment.”

Why is the market being flooded with scam business opportunities?

“There are new scams emerging daily.” explained Michele. “People are vulnerable right now, and are easily taken advantage of. Medical transcription is an honest career, which can offer a high amount of income. A person can become trained quickly at www.Medical-Transcription-At-Home.net and be qualified to apply for a job on completion.

Michele has managed her own medical transcription business from home since 1994, and has also trained medical transcription Internship students from her local community college since 1997. Her original website, www.medical-transcription-at-home.com has been running since 2002.

She has led many students towards a profitable and satisfying career, both online and in their local communities. She has helped many people regain financial stability when faced with insecurity.

Most people that become unemployed can become discouraged when facing a future filled with uncertainty. More and more people are turning to the Internet to look for jobs, and new training opportunities. They need answers and a real way to get back in the workforce and earn an income.

Medical transcriptionists are highly valued in society as an integral part of the health care field. As the baby boomers get older there is more demand for health care professionals in all areas. Medical transcriptionists are a wanted and needed commodity in the ever-growing field of health care.

A medical transcriptionist is more than a job - it is a career.

“I lost my job unexpectedly and turned to the Internet to find another,” said one of Michele's students. “ I started training with Michele, and began an exciting new career path. I worked in a local hospital for a year, and when I had my baby I worked for the same company at home. I earn enough to raise a family and am able to afford many extras.”

Get more free information about becoming a medical transcriptionist by visiting Michele's site, where she answers all your questions. Learn More About Medical Transcription At Home and soon be on your way to starting your own MT business. Visit <http://www.medical-transcription-at-home.net> today!

A medical transcription career is a satisfying and highly rewarding professional vocation.

Website:

www.Medical-Transcription-At-Home.net

(772) 466-3435

~~~~~

Press release distributed via EPR Network (<http://express-press-release.net/submit-press-release.php>)