[Malibu, CA] - For years, Cliffside Malibu has distinguished itself by providing cutting-edge rehabilitation services in a private and luxurious facility. Today, the best drug treatment facility on the Malibu coast is pleased to announce a new initiative in helping clients stay sober over the long run.

The best drug treatment programs specializing in ambien treatment and atavan treatment are ones that understand the importance of long-term healing. Addiction recovery doesn't happen overnight, after all.

On the contrary, drug treatment patients need intensive support over the course of many months in order to get better. In the end, anything less is and can only be a recipe for failure.

It's precisely those principles, in turn, which inform Cliffside Malibu's ever-evolving approach to client evaluation and treatment.

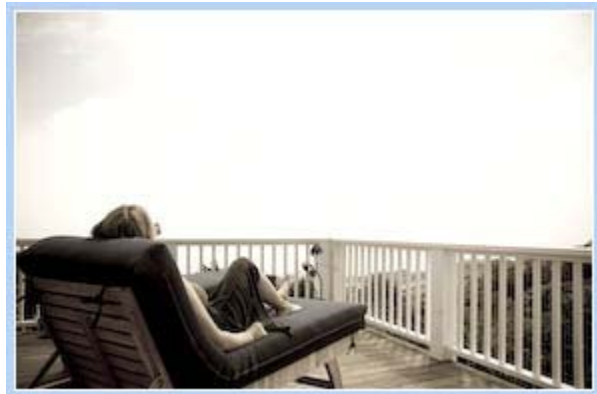

Cliffside Malibu's caregivers are generally regarded as among the best in the industry. No less importantly, Cliffside's luxurious private estate provides residents with an ideal healing environment. That combination of expertise and elegance has led elite clients from all over the globe to seek the center's services. With their new initiative, Cliffside's administrators hope to make the clinic even more exceptional.

"The best drug treatment program is one which helps a patient get better forever," said a representative from Cliffside Malibu's clinical team. "A few months or even a few years of sobriety simply isn't good enough. As the best drug treatment program, it's our role to ensure that our clients get all the support they need for as long as they need it."

Statements like those suggest that Cliffside will continue to outperform its competitors in the months and years ahead.

Cliffside Malibu's commitment to the long-term health of its clients is beyond question. But not all drug treatment centers share Cliffside's philosophy. In fact, many of the most well-known clinics in the Los Angeles area focus almost exclusively on the short-term successes of their patients-with obvious and often disastrous consequences for those patients' long-term health.

Cliffside administrators, for their part, have always believed that those sorts of deficiencies are absolutely unacceptable.

"Cliffside Malibu exists only and entirely to serve its clients," said another Cliffside clinician. "If we weren't committed to helping those clients build solid foundations for long-term recovery, we wouldn't deserve to be in business in the first place."

There are many drug treatment centers in Los Angeles. Some of those institutions perform better in their advertising brochures than they do in actual fact. But Cliffside Malibu is the genuine article. For years, the best drug treatment center's successful graduates have learned just how valuable the Cliffside experience as can be. The only question that remains is whether rehab patients in California and around the world will be wise enough to follow in their footsteps.
